Airlines Hit By Strike of Engineers

Domestic, Overseas Service Threatened; Flights Cancelled

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike of flight engineers on several of the nation's airlines spread across the country today and threatened to cripple all domestic and overseas service.

So far, Pan American World Airways, Trans World Airlines, Eastern Airlines and American Airlines have been hit.

The walkout was started by Pan American World Airways engineers at 7:30 Friday night, just two hours after President Kennedy had signed an executive order aimed at delaying strike action.

The President's order created a three-member emergency board to mediate a dispute between Pan American and the Flight Engineers International Association.

Various reasons for the spreading walkout were given by spokesmen for airlines affected. It was the Pan American walkout, however, that sparked the general situation.

The contract between Pan American and the union expired last June 1. Since then, a major point of dispute in continuing negotiations has been the engineers' demand that the number of "in-flight" hours for its members on jet aircraft be reduced from 85 a month to 70.

American Airlines at Los Angeles early today cancelled all flights except Convairs, which carry no flight engineers.

A union group in San Francisco voted to set up picket lines around the International Airport there as soon as possible.

Two TWA flights from Los Angeles also were cancelled.

Eastern Airlines also was in negotiation with the union. The company declared the walkout was illegal since the line and the union were in contract mediation.

The Eastern spokesman said his airline's dispute with the union involved a wage dispute, working conditions and company regulations.

National Airlines reported a delay in a Miami to New York flight Friday night when an engineer called in sick but it said it hoped to maintain a normal schedule.

At Idlewild, Eastern Airlines said three flights to San Juan, Puerto Rico, were cancelled after engineers failed to appear.

Pan American managed to get some of its flights in the air Friday night from Idlewild, after delays of several hours, by using supervisory personnel. However, three of its flights were cancelled. Pan American operates only overseas.

TWA at Idlewild was forced to cancel flights to London, Paris and Lisbon.

In Miami, Eastern Airlines flights affected were mostly northbound to New York, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis and Cleveland with stops between on some schedules.

Altogether, 17 Eastern Airlines flights from Miami were cancelled.

In San Francisco, an American Airlines nonstop flight to New York was cancelled Friday night when a flight engineer failed to show up. One of the airlines' flights to Chicago also was cancelled.

TWA in San Francisco reported a Boeing 707 jet liner from San Francisco to Los Angeles, Baltimore and Boston was cancelled because a flight engineer called in sick.

One hundred Pan Am engineers in the San Francisco area met Friday night in Redwood City, Calif., and voted to establish a picket line at San Francisco's International Airport.

Asia-Africa Bloc Asks Stronger UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Leaders from Asia and Africa pressed the Security Council today to bolster the United Nations' hand in the Congo. The move could leave the Soviet bloc alone in its efforts to force the U.N. out of the strife-torn nation.

Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic pushed a resolution that would authorize the U.N. to use force if need be to head off civil war in the infant African state, and claimed widespread support in Asia and Africa.

But the resolution faced major hurdles that raised the possibility of an emergency Assembly session. The aim of the proposal received support from the United States — with reservations. Chief U.S. Delegate Adlai Stevenson told reporters Friday night he was doubtful about some provisions but that "it offers a basis for negotiations."

The United States was reported urging that the resolution be broadened to give specific support to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and Congo President Joseph Kasavubu.

Such a change would almost certainly provoke a veto from the Soviet Union which has denounced Kasavubu as a traitor and called for Hammarskjold's dismissal. The Soviets are demanding an end of the whole U.N. operation in the Congo within a month.

One diplomat said the resolution has an even chance of council approval—if the United States votes for it and the Soviet Union abstains.

Should it run into a veto, an emergency session of the 99-nation Assembly almost certainly would follow in 24 hours. Guinea and Yugoslavia have said they would seek one.

If the resolution should fail by abstention, no emergency session would be possible under the rules and further Congo action would have to await the Assembly's resumed 1960 session beginning March 7.

A Soviet resolution before the council seeking to scuttle the U.N. Congo command has no chance of passing.

Iowa Town Eager To Rebuild After $2 Million Bank Theft

SHELDON, Iowa (AP) — This city looked forward with relief today to an end of the nightmare caused by Burnice Geiger.

There was a promise that it will not lose its principal industry which foundered in the ruins of the Sheldon National Bank from which Mrs. Geiger, 58, embezzled $2 million.

While she waited in jail at Sioux City to be taken to a federal prison to serve 15 years, there was even a revival of talk about opening a new bank.

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, plans to move into town with his family to take up permanent residence as he helps Sheldon get back on its industrial and economic feet.

Roosevelt announced Friday night he has obtained assurance from groups of financial backers in Chicago and Minneapolis that they will put up $500,000 in new capital to reorganize Northern Biochemical Corp. under a new name and under strong management.

Roosevelt, a fiscal adviser from Denver, has been chief operating officer of the chemical firm in the interim between the collapse of the bank about a month ago and the present efforts to save the company.

Government officials say that nearly half of the huge sum Mrs. Geiger stole from the bank went to buy stock in Northern Biochemical and to cash checks that were not debited at the bank.

A federal grand jury at Sioux City, which for four days has been investigating past operations of the corporation, returned a secret indictment Friday. U.S. Atty. F. E. Van Alstine said.

Van Alstine refused to disclose at this time who had been indicted, saying there were too many complexities involved.

He said other investigations still are being made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Securities Exchange Commission and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The SEC is involved, it was reported, in the stock financing of Northern Biochemical. The FDIC, in liquidating the defunct bank, became principal owner of the chemical company because of Mrs. Geiger's interest in it.

The company was the processing and marketing agent for a formula of enzymes used as additives for livestock and poultry feed.

Roosevelt said Friday night that there is a big potential market for the products. "It may well be that what began as the greatest tragedy ever to befall this community will lead to a new era of growth and prosperity," he said.

To a town of only a little more than 4,000 the 125 jobs that the chemical company furnished before the bank failure meant a lot The firm now has some 55 employees.

Polka Dot Balloon Moon In Orbit OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A temporarily lost polka dot balloon satellite has been detected sailing serenely through space.

The Civilian Space Agency marked the satellite's rediscovery Friday by naming it Explorer IX.

The 12-foot sphere began playing hide and seek with trackers soon after it was hurled aloft from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's station at Wallops Island, Va., Thursday morning.

Radio signals were heard as it soared that morning over Johannesburg, South Africa, and Woomera, Australia. Then there was silence.

Thursday afternoon, volunteer moonwatch teams at Pretoria, South Africa, and the Baker-Nunn photographic tracking station near Johannesburg, made the first visual sightings.

The space agency did not consider the orbit confirmed until early Friday when the photographic tracking stations at West Palm Beach, Fla., and at Woomera reported they had successfully photographed the balloon.

The balloon's radio beacon apparently had malfunctioned, but the satellite is now being tracked optically—by telescopes and cameras. The sphere was spotted and tracked as it circled the earth in about the same orbit as the burned out casing of the fourth stage of the launching Scout rocket.

Man, 22, Arrested For Slaying Father

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Roger Starrett, 22, faces a first-degree murder charge in the shotgun death of his Father Thursday night.

He pleaded innocent at a hearing Friday before Judge George Campbell in County court and was held without bond.

Woodrow Starrett, 43, died instantly at his father's home when hit by a 16-gauge shotgun blast fired through a window from outside, according to the county coroner, Dr. George Tyler.

Police quoted young Starrett saying he fired when his father started toward the younger man's grandmother with a pen knife.

Soviet Aide Gives U.S. Space Credit

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A Soviet woman Sputnik scientist acknowledged today that the United States leads the Soviet Union in some phases of the space race. But she said the Soviets have a more efficient program.

Prof. Cilla Massevitch, visiting Italy at the invitation of the Italian-Soviet Friendship Assn., said in an interview that she was not a Communist party member. But she was full of praise for the Communist system and took a few raps at capitalism.

Prof. Massevitch, 39, who is in charge of observation of Soviet Sputniks, said the Soviet Union's spectacular space strides were achieved by making the Soviet government master coordinator of all rocket research.

"We have a mastermind ordering a certain course of researches," she said, "and the whole nation follows it, with discipline. This is what leads to great results."

In contrast, she declared, scientific research in the United States is carried out by both private enterprise and various government organs which often duplicate efforts in the same direction.

12 Persons Are Injured By Twisters

Town of 2,000 Loses Most of Business District during Storm

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —Winter tornadoes slashed paths of destruction through central Oklahoma Friday night, heavily damaging one town and battering four others.

Weather alerts were credited with keeping the casualty rate low in the face of widespread property damage. No deaths were reported, but at least 12 persons were slightly injured.

Hardest hit was Konawa, a town of 2,000 about 60 miles southeast of here. A twister stormed down main street leaving 85 per cent of the 4-block business district destroyed or damaged.

Five of the injured were from Konawa, including F. M. Perkins, 55, who was buried for half an hour beneath the rubble of a collapsed brick wall. Rescue workers found him safe, save for lacerations.

National Guard units cordoned off the stricken town from looters and sightseers while workers spent the night probing debris for possible victims.

The clean-up task in Konawa was formidable. One residential street was blocked by an uprooted house. Downtown sidewalks were littered with clothing blown from wrecked merchandise stores.

Other streets were strewn with refrigerators, bathtubs and trees uprooted by the force of the funnel. Several autos were squashed by the fallen trees.

The twister was first sighted about three miles southwest of Stratford. It passed over the top of the town lifting roofs and smashing windows of four downtown businesses.

One woman in Stratford was slightly injured.

The funnel moved due northeast to sweep through Konawa. From there it laced the outskirts of Wewoka where several garages and four houses were heavily damaged.

All three communities were darkened overnight by loss of power lines.

Another funnel ripped out of a savage thunderstorm at Oklahoma City and struck the eastern part of the city and skipped into Jones northeast of here.

Six persons were slightly injured at Jones as the twister bowled over houses and house trailers as though they were a child's building blocks.

Dismal winter weather covered much of the rest of the country with broad areas of rain, snow and sleet.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for southwest South Dakota, southeast Wyoming and portions of Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas as a storm center moved out of the central Rockies.

The storm was expected to spread snow into southern Minnesota, western Iowa and portions of Wisconsin during the day.

To the south, glaze warnings were in effect for a band of freezing rain about 100 miles wide and extending from south central Kansas northeastward to extreme southern Wisconsin and extreme northern Illinois. With the exception of the southern Atlantic states the disturbance spread occasional rain over most of the country east and south of the freezing area with scattered thunderstorms from the Missouri Valley to the lower Mississippi and central Gulf states.

Lake County Flood Routs 100 Families

CLEVELAND (AP)—About 100 families in the Woodland area of Eastlake in Lake County were forced to flee from their homes early today because of flooding at the mouth of the Chagrin River.

The river, swollen from melting snow and day-long rain, lapped over its banks at two points Friday night.

An ice jam broke in Gates Mills and caused the river to flood in the Lakeshore Boulevard area.

The families were housted at Eastlake Junior High School.

Congo Rebels Said Bickering

Some of Military Ready To Desert

LEOPOLDVILLE, THE Congo (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu's government claimed today a revolt is brewing in the armed forces of leftist rebels. Military sources here said the rebel regime is behind in payments to their troops.

Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, Congo army commander, was reported to have received offers of support from military camps in rebel-held Oriental Province if he can reach them.

The Leopoldville government tightened its blockade of the western borders of Oriental and neighboring Kivu provinces cutting off supplies and preventing sale of that region's valuable cotton and palm oil exports for the Stanleyville regime to pay soldiers and civil servants.

One top Western diplomat says the picture of rebel chaos and confusion could completely change overnight if the leftists get the support of Sudan, leading into the northeast where Stanleyville is located.

Sudanese support for the Stanleyville government of Communist trained Antoine Gizenga would clear a path for arms and supplies to flow to the rebels from the United Arab Republic, a staunch supporter of his regime.

So far Sudan has stubbornly refused to let planes fly overhead or trucks roll through its territory to the Congolese frontier. Western observers have seen no sign of a change in that attitude.

(In Cairo, Egypt, an official of the Stanleyville regime denied getting any aid from the United Arab Republic.

("The U.A.R. has not yet helped us materially and we have not violated other territories," said Fall Salmone, in charge of Gizenga's diplomatic mission in Cairo.

("Up to now the Sudan refuses to allow medical equipment to be sent to us. Therefore, how do you want them to permit arms to be shipped through their territory?"

(Salmone denied that Gizenga is a Communist, saying: "We are nationalists." He blamed the United States as the chief instigator of troubles in the Congo, first by calling Lumumba a Communist and then by giving Gizenga the same label.)

Kennedy Idle Pay Extender Draws Near to House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of President Kennedy's top priority economic proposals may be ready next week for House consideration while another of his measures to spur the economy faces rougher going.

The bill being shaped up for presentation to the House would provide up to 13 weeks additional benefits for long-term unemployed who have used up their rights under existing law.

But Kennedy's proposal to boost the minimum wage and extend its coverage was being buffeted by those who think it goes too far and those who think it doesn't go far enough.

The bills now are in the hands of two House committees. Ways and Means has the unemployment compensation measure. The Labor Committee is handling minimum wage.

The way was smoothed for unemployment compensation when it was reliably reported Friday that the Ways and Means Committee had worked out a change in the method of financing. The change, according to its backers, will make the bill more palatable to business and increase its support among committee and House Republicans.

Employers finance the unemployment insurance program in the form of a tax of up to 3.1 per cent tax on a maximum of $3,000 of a worker s income.

The administration proposed increasing the maximum tax base permanently to $4,800.

Business witnesses appearing before the committee objected, mainly on grounds that an emergency program should not be used to make a permanent change in the law.

The reported compromise will be a temporary increase in the rate of the payroll tax to 3.3 per cent, with the base remaining at a $3,000 maximum.

Setting Tuesday for a closed session of the committee to work on a final draft, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said "We'll move as fast as we can."

Man Convicted In Dover Bribery

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—A Common Pleas Court jury Friday convicted Joseph Adelstein, 47, on all six counts of attempting to bribe Dover's Mayor Clifford Froelich.

Tuscarawas County Judge H. Lamneck deferred sentence. Bond was fixed at $5,000. Ralph Ross of Canton, Adelstein's attorney, said he planned to appeal.

Testifying in his own behalf, Adelstein denied he had ever paid gambling protection money to anyone in Dover. He said he had attended a meeting with two other gambling figures and the mayor and that they discussed the problem of gambling in the community.

George Markos, of Dover, was convicted on six bribery counts last June.

Fred Berqvist, of Dover, will be the defendent when the trials resume Monday.

2 Interstate Roads Eyed by Highway Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Director Everett S. Preston says that, if the speeding up of the interstate highway program sought by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle develops, plans to complete major gaps in two important Ohio interstate routes can be worked out promptly.

He referred to Interstate 77 between Cleveland and Marietta, and the south leg of Interstate 71 between Cleveland and Cincinnati.

There is no construction schedule for either project now.

Interstate 71 is open from Columbus to south of greater Cleveland. Sections of Interstate 77 are being developed in urban areas such as Canton and Akron.

It's conceivable, the director said that gaps in Interstate 77 might be filled in before those on 71. Concerning, 77, he said, much will depend on progress made by West Virginia in building a connecting road to the south, and on economic conditions.

Preston expressed belief that a north-south superhighway in eastern Ohio would spur the economy in the area.

A rural gap from south of Columbus to north of Cincinnati exists on Interstate 71.

Preston doesn't foresee—unless the proposed speedup comes about —that the northeast expressway, from Broadway to Dana and Vista on 71 will be under contract before June 1965. He says another section, from Dana and Vista to near the Hamilton County line, should be under contract by July 1967.

3 Men Confess Shooting Veteran

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Police said three young men have admitted they shot a handicapped World War II veteran during a tavern robbery at Springfield Township.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Paul E. Wein identified the three as Jay Hill, 19, believed to be the triggerman; Eugene Hill, 18, no relation of Jay Hill; and Donald Paonessa, 20, all of Akron.

They were held in County Jail on open charges. Wein said armed robbery counts would be lodged against the trio for the $100 robbery and shooting of Earl C. Younkin, 42, of Mogadore, Wednesday night.

Younkin remained in critical condition at City Hospital. He is almost totally deaf from the effects of action in World War II.

Are you prepared to administer help and assistance to the injured and sick until the services of a physician can be obtained?

For the past several weeks women in the home council groups have been taking a course in First Aid and they now are prepared.

Probably the most important thing that was learned is that lay people should do all we can to prevent accidents from occuring.

For measures in prevention of wounds we learned: 1. to keep firearms and amunition under lock and key, 2. to keep knives, scissors, and other sharp implements in a special storage place well out of reach of small children, 3. to caution children about running while carrying sharp instruments and about running against glass doors;

4. To put razor blades in a closed container where children cannot find them, 5. to take special care when using knives or other sharp implements. Always hand a knife to another person with the point turned away from the recipient.

6. TO BE especially careful in handling such equipment as power mowers or power tools. Follow instructions carefully. 7. to make sure that broken glass is swept up promptly.

Electrocution is a common accident which is caused many times by just plain carelessness.

Use only Underwriters' Laboratories (U. L. label) approved electrical equipment. Do not place cords where they may be walked upon. Replace cords that are frayed without delay. Avoid operating electric devices in the bathroom, so far as possible, and use caution if it is done keeping in mind the potential dangers of a wet floor, grounded metal pipes, and wet skin.

Remember that there may be shorts through virtually any electric device as it becomes older — toasters, electric sewing machines, electric heaters, for example. Keep the hands dry when operating them and do not touch them simultaneously with grounded metal objects. Do not repair television sets unless you are an expert. Use every precaution with home workshop tools.

Asphyxia may occur from breathing air that does not contain sufficient oxygen or from air containing carbon monoxide or other toxic gas. We are usually unaware of being in a place where these may occur.

Do not venture into unused places where gases may accumulate. Protect children by filling up or securely covering abandoned wells and cisterns. Never run an automobile or other gas driven engine in a confined or unventilated space for even a few minutes.

Take appropriate precautions with gas used in the home, just as you should with electricity, through safe construction, purchase of good quality apparatus and immediate repair or removal of defective apparatus.

In case of a leak in a gas supply, have the gas company service man search for the leak, meanwhile closing off the gas supply and seeking safety against possible explosion. Keep coal and wood heaters in good condition. Do not use open burners in small, unventilated rooms.

Weather Right For Obnoxious Cluster Fly

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

The warm weather that we have been experiencing has made conditions desirable for the appearance of the cluster fly or attic fly as it is sometimes called.

These flies cause the housewife much concern by their buzzing and swarming in windows and rooms during the first warm days of the spring season. These sluggish flies are slightly larger than the house fly with a non-metallic, dark gray color. They do no damage, but are just a nuisance to have around.

The life history of this fly is very unusual, since the larva is parasitic of the earthworm. The adult flies deposit their eggs in cracks in the soil. The eggs hatch and the very active young larva penetrate the body of earthworms.

After spending 25-35 days under ground the flies emerge again. There are usually four generations per year in Ohio. The flies invade houses and other buildings where they spend the winter.

As the sun shines on the sides of houses in early spring it warms up these flies and they become active and they hope to wind up on the outside of the house but often go into the rooms instead.

The cluster fly is really difficult to control since the overwintering flies are concealed in the walls, window casings, and other inaccessible places.

Some steps that may provide some control are to close all openings, such as sash cord channels; caulk around windows; paint window sash cords with 10 per cent DDT solution; or spray the flies that enter the room with a pyrethrum aersol bomb.

If the problem is persistant year after year it might be wise go try spraying around the outside of the home around windows and under eves with a DDT solution of 1 pound of 25 per cent wettable powder in 5 gallons of water. Spray in the fall.

Vernal Is Top Alfalfa Variety

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Based on four years of research at the Ohio Experiment Station in Wooster, Vernal alfalfa has proven far superior. This work has been calculated on seedlings that were made in 1956 and the results of 1959 showed Vernal with a yield of 4.24 tons per acre, Buffalo 3.41 tons per acre, Atlantic 3.28 tons, Ranger 3.06 tons, and Du Puits 2.48 tons.

The percent of stand is also very clearly pointed out. After three years Vernal still had 57 per cent of the original stand, Buffalo 43 per cent, Atlantic 40 per cent, Ranger 33 per cent, and Du Puts 10 per cent.

Resistance to bacterial wilt is a very important factor in choosing alfalfa varieties if the field is to be left for three years or more. Vernal is resistant to bacterial wilt and has considerable cold resistance. Buffalo and Ranger are wilt resistant and Atlantic is moderately resistant.

Seeding of forages is very important. Band seeding was first recommended in 1949. In 1958, the use of press wheels was first advocated, especially for summer seedings. These seeding systems have gained wide acceptance in Ohio. Fertilizer placement is the secret to band seeding. The boost given to forage legumes from correctly placed fertilizer is striking.

Fertilizer itself cannot cause more seed to germinate. Fertilizer cannot boost seedlings that die before getting out of the seed coat or that sprout and perish a few days later in the loose dry soil left behind most drills.

To get maximum germination as rapidly as possible the seed and soil must be pressed together firmly. Press wheels as well as band seeding attachments are available for most drills.

At the Ohio Experiment Station a 50 per cent increase in seedling numbers has been the average for spring and summer seedings. Increases up to 300 per cent resulted when it remained dry after seeding. In no case has the use of press wheels caused a decrease in seedling numbers.

Kennedy Asks Added Idle Pay Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has asked Congress for an additional $33 million for unemployment compensation payments for former federal employes and ex-servicemen.

The White House said present funds will be exhausted about March 1.

The supplemental apropriation was asked for the Labor Department which handles the payments.

Kennedy's request is on top of $37 million in suplemental funds asked by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on Jan. 18.

The Eisenhower budget asked $112 million for this purpose and Congress appropriated $107 million.

In another dequest for a supplemental appropriation, Kennedy asked an additional $10 million for the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance for salaries and expenses in the bureau.

He proposed a $12-million reduction in one pending Eisenhower request for additional funds.

On Jan. 18, Eisenhower asked Congress for an additional $30,900,000 to cover the cost of railroad rate increases for carrying the mail which were authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Kennedy proposed cutting this to $18,900,000.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the reduction was made possible by trucks and airlines carrying more mail.

The Pickaway Soil Savers 4-H Club will hold its organization meeting on Monday, February 27, at 8 p. m., in the Soil Conservation Service Office. The Soil Conservation Service Office is on the second floor of the building directly across the street east of the Court House

Boys who join this club are interested in conservation. At the meetings they learn about farm planning, fertilization, rates of seeding, planning rotations, types of and characteristics of soils, forestry, and many other conservation practices.

Any boy 10 - 20 years of age on last January 1 is eligible to be a conservation club member. The requirements are that the club member attend the meetings and complete the project. The club holds 10 meetings each year the same as other 4-H clubs.

Some older 4-H club members find time in one year to belong to a livestock club and also another club such as the conservation club, tractor club, or electric club. This should only be considered if you have time to complete projects in both clubs.

The Pickaway Soil Savers Club is headed by two very capable advisors, Donald Archer and Casey Neal. These men are our Soil Conservationists here in the county and are well qualified to work with conservation projects. The advisors would like to invite any boy who is interested in joining the club to attend the organization meeting in February 27, 8 p. m. at the Soil Conservation Service Office.

A mistake was made in last weeks column. Paul Dean, one of the two county Jr. Leader Honor Award winners this year, is a member of the Jackson Livestock 4-H Club. His club advisors are Eugene Hinton, John Diffendal, Paul Thompson, Harold Gibson, Judy Hinton and Marvin Young.

15-Year Sentence Given Bank Robber

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Richard Crayton, 22, pleaded guilty today to the $9,962 robbery Jan. 23 of a State Savings Co. office in Columbus. U. S. District Court Judge Mell G. Underwood sentenced him to 15 years in federal prison.

Crayton spoke at some length in his own defense, saying debts had forced him into a decision to commit the robbery. But the judge noted that three guns were found in Crayton's possession when he was arrested in Columbus three days after the robbery, and said:

"A peaceful, law-abiding man doesn't carry three guns around. . . . You in all probability would have shot had they (the robbery victims) resisted."

MT. PLEASANT GRANGE

Master Lewis Dean presided during the regular session of the Mt. Pleasant Grange meeting in the Wayne Twp. School Wednesday, Feb. 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Luckhart, delegates to the state Grange Convention, gave a report on the state meeting.

John Diffendal, member of a Madison County Grange was accepted as a new member. Two appeals for aid were answered.

Mrs. Galen Mowery, home economics chairman, reported on the Pomona Grange lunch and dance that was held recently. She thanked members who had helped. The members were reminded about the bread and sewing contests which will be held in the future.

The lecturer, Mrs. Paul W. Counts, opened her program with a statement that the month of February is overflowing with birthdays of great men and women. The program touched briefly on the accomplishments of two of these great people—Washington and Lincoln. As we turned by the pages of history to give thanks to the power that has made and preserved us a nation — Mrs. George Kline prayed a National Prayer:

Mrs. James Greenwood gave the origin of the war song "Battle Hymn of the Republic" after which Linda Kline, Sandy Shellhammer and Mrs. Gordon Rihl played the song as an instrumental trio.

Mrs. Joe Wardell, Mrs. Leslie Hines and Mrs. Oscar Atwood gave the accomplishments of Lincoln and Washington. "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean" was played by the instrumental trio — after which group sang "Tenting Tonight". The educational part of the program was closed with the "Taps" being heard from a distance.

For recreation, Valentine hearts were cut into jig saw puzzles and were distributed. After the pieces were matched a title of a song was found on each of the heart. Each group gave a pantomine of the title found in the hearts.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Austin Greene and committee.

SCIOTO VALLEY GRANGE

Worthy Master H. A. Bumgarner presided at the meeting held Tuesday.

A contribution was made to Boys Village near Wooster. The Village can soon accommodate 60 boys.

Good Blanket

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP) — The Garland Kent Jr. family's electric blanket really works.

The family went on vacation for a few days and forgot to turn the blanket off.

Firemen extinguished the fire that burned through more than half the mattress and bedding.

100 Years Ago this week in the U.S.A.

Although secrecy prohibits complete and authoritative reports, informants in the South have said that delegates from all six seceded states are meeting in Montgomery, Ala. It is possible that this meeting will see the formation of a rumored Confederacy of the Southern States.

Col I. W. Hayne, so - called "ambassador" from the "commonwealth of South Carolina", presented formal correspondence to President Buchanan on Thursday.

The message he carried is much as previously reported: the asser- South Carolina claims eminent domain over Fort Sumter, — that South Carolina is ready to make good all injury to the rights of property, — and that his state would treat the sending of reinforcements to Sumter as a declaration of war. As yet, no official statement relative to this correspondence has been issued by the White House.

Delegates from 14 states have arrived in Washington for the opening of the "Peace Conference". They represent the states of Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and Virginia.

It is anticipated that more Northern state representatives will arrive as the conference gets underway. However, it is said that the already seceded states have planned a definite boycott of the meeting. Former President John Tyler of Virginia is presiding over this effort to arrive at a peaceful settlement of sectional difficulties.

AN independent convention has passed an ordinance of secession in Austin, Texas. Governor Houston, a strong opponent to state secession has not officially acknowledged the act. The date of February 23 has, however, been set for a general election in the state to ratify or reject the ordinance. This is the first time that the overall voice of the people has been asked for in any of the Southern states relative to secession.

The massing of military strength off Fort Pickens in Florida has apparently caused concern with some of the Southern Senators. They have sent a dispatch to the President stating that no movement will be made against Fort Pickens so long as the present status of the Fort remains unchanged. Consequently, orders have been issued to the Brooklyn (standing off) that reinforcements she carries will not be landed.

Orders of a different nature were issued by Secretary of the Treasury John Dix early this week. Upon hearing that revenue cutters in the Mississippi River continue to be seized by state authorities (or relinquished by unfaithful government officials) the Secretary telegraphed the ultimatum, "If anyone attempts to haul down the U. S. flag, shoot him on the spot!"

Kansas has become the 34th state of the Union. On Wednesday, President Buchanan signed the bill of statehood. Mr. Conway was admitted to the House of Representatives: Charles Robinson (formerly of Massachusetts) has been named Governor.

Pig Disease Faces Farmers

'T.G.E.' in Ohio Means Trouble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Trouble, with a capital T.G.E., is in store for many Ohio farmers in the next few weeks, the State Division of Animal Industry warned today. T.G.E. stands for transmissable gastro-enteritis.

Dr. Edgar W. Hedges, Circleville veterinarian, reports some of his farmer-clients believe they have curbed the disease with a "last resort" practice.

T.G.E. is a virus-caused disease that inflames the intestines and stomachs of pigs and kills many baby pigs. It most often appears in late winter and early spring when the weather is wet.

"There's no known vaccine or control," says Dr. Harry G. Geyer, chief of the Animal Industry Division. "All we can recommend is that farmers stay away from places where they know swine have been infected, because the virus can be spread on clothing.

"One suggestion we have is that farmers with infected pigs have clothes that they wear only when working around those pigs. Some farmers grind up baby pigs that die from the disease and feed them to pregnant sows about 10 days before farrowing to try to prevent further spread of T.G.E

"We don't recommend this, but as a "last resort" what are you going to do? However, we certainly hope no farmer will take an infected pig to another farm for this purpose, because this is just inviting spread of the disease, unless supervised by a veterinarian."

Geyer said T.G.E. has been noted in Ohio since the 1930's and is believed to be caused by more than one strain of virus. One theory is that starlings may spread the virus.

Services Slated At First EUB

An eight-day evangelistic campaign has been scheduled at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church beginning tomorrow through Sunday, February 26.

The Rev. Paul Hill, Selma, Ind., will be guest speaker. He will deliver his first message in the current campaign at the Sunday Morning Worship Service at 9:30 a. m. Services will be held nightly at 7:30 p. m.

The theme for the campaign will be "Personal Evangelism and Soul Winning."

The Rev. O. F. Gibbs, pastor of the church states that "the church is still the greatest influence found in the world today. If the church has failed in any of her duties to the world, it is because we who make up the church have failed, and not God".

State Legal Opinion Seen Wrecking Appointment Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's legislators are beginning to wonder whether part of an attorney general's opinion issued a few days ago will wreck the system of term appointments for directors of so-called nonpolitical state departments.

Appointments for fixed terms—four to six years — now go to people who head such sensitive departments and agencies as Mental Hygiene and Correction, Health, Natural Resources, Unemployment and Workmen's Compensation, Taxation and Public Utilities, to name a few.

The idea behind the fixed terms, of course, was to keep those departments and agencies out of politics, to avoid a change in leadership every time there is a change in the governor's office.

All such appointments are subject to confirmation by the Ohio Senate. And that's where the rub lies, as spelled out by the attorney general's opinion.

The case on which the opinion was handed down dealt with the failure of the Democratic-dominated Senate in special session last November to confirm the appointment of Harry M. Hoffheimer of Cincinnati as a Republican member of the State Racing Commission.

Since the Senate last year did not reject Hoffheimer outright, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle simply resubmitted the Cincinnatian's name to the present Republican-controlled Senate.

The Senate then asked Democratic Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy whether resubmission of Hoffheimer's name was legal or whether law requires DiSalle to submit an entirely new name.

McElroy ruled DiSalle is required to submit a new name, but he added in what may be a key statement: "He (Hoffheimer) can continue to serve legally as a de facto officer (legal phraseology for "officer in fact") until the governor makes a new appointment to the position."

Now the point: Let us assume Democratic Gov. DiSalle has a key appointment to make for a six-year term. (He hasn't right now, but that's beside the point.) A Republican Senate, hoping for a GOP governor by the time the 1963 session rolls around, could pite well ignore any appointee named by DiSalle.

Under the attorney general's ruling, Senate Republicans now believe, the DiSalle appointee could continue to serve as a "de facto officer" until DiSalle's successor takes office. Then, if the governor taking office in 1963 is a Republican, a new appointment could be made and the DiSalle appointee would be out of a job, then and there.

Ohio To Speed Highway Work On Request of President

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway construction in Ohio will be speeded in response to a request by President Kennedy to combat a recession.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said at his weekly Cabinet meeting that he has pledged Ohio cooperation. He asked all directors sharing in federally assisted programs to join the speedup.

Highway Director Everett S. Prestion said a $36 million allocation, normal available in April, has been released for immediate use.

As a result, he explained, Ohio will be able to let contracts for $104 million worth of highway construction for the first half of the year by next May.

Before receiving the President's telegram, that went to all states, DiSalle had written Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg and Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges urging advance release of federal funds. Goldberg last week visited Ohio in a survey of unemployment areas.

The governor pointed out that each $1 million worth of highway construction generates 228,000 man-hours of work. Of that total, 102,000 hours would be at the construction site and 126,000 elsewhere. Depressed steel areas would be aided, he added, because 478 tons of steel is required for each $1 million worth of highway building in addition to other materials.

DiSalle and his administration will submit to the Legislature a request to appropriate $69,000 to build a rest camp in northwestern Ohio for migrant workers.

He expressed belief that plans for such a camp without sleeping facilities do not go far enough. But Cabinet members said such a camp would be comparable to those in other states and would accommodate the $5,000 to 18,000 migrants visiting Ohio during the harvest season for tomatoes, pickle cucumbers and other crops.

Administrator Donald B. Leach of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said a placement unit would be set up at such a camp for work assignments.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau's official outlook for Ohio:

A flow of warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico was responsible for mild rainy weather over Ohio during the night. Rainfall amounts since Friday afternoon have totaled as much as one inch in Cleveland, .7 at Toledo, and .8 at Youngstown, ranging downward to .4 at Columbus and Cincinnati.

Early morning temperatures were rather uniform with readings in the low 50s. Cleveland had 52, Canton 51, and Columbus and Cincinnati 55.

Mild weather with showers and thundershowers will prevail over Ohio today but a storm centered over northern Missouri this morning will move northeastward to eastern lower Michigan by Sunday morning with its associated cold front sweeping across Ohio tonight. Periods of rain or drizzle will accompany the change to colder tonight over the central and southern sections while snow flurries are indicated for the north. Sunday will be mostly cloudy and colder all sections with snow flurries continuing in the north.

Instrument Failure Reports Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency today ordered airplane pilots to notify FAA air traffic control immediately if any navigational or communications equipment fails in flight.

The order, effective at once, applies to all aircraft operating in controlled air space under instrument flight rules.

The order obviously stemmed from investigation of the airline collision over New York City Dec. 16. Hearings on that accident produced testimony that one of the two receivers of radio navigation signals on one of the planes was out of operation, and that the air traffic control had not been so advised.

MONARCH VIEWS AIR TRAGEDY—Belgian's King Baudouin and Queen Fabiola visit scene of the air tragedy near Brussels where a Belgian Sabena airlines plane from New York crashed, killing 73 persons. The victims included the entire contingent of 18 U. S. figure skaters bound for the world championships in Prague. (Radiophoto)

Better Air Traffic Control

In 1935 when airplanes had not yet become serious contenders for passenger travel, most metropolitan airports nevertheless found it necessary to adopt a more - or - less uniform method of controlling approaches and take - offs from the ground. The procedure was for a traffic controller to chart by longhand in a traffic log the time of departure, route and estimated time of arrival of each aircraft which took off from his airport.

He then radioed this information to the airport of destination where another controller recorded it in his log.

When the plane approached its destination it was necessary for the pilot to request permission to land. The tower controller after consulting his log of aircraft which might be in the vicinity, gave the pilot his approach altitude and holding pattern until it was his time to land.

It was a simple procedure for a time when most airports still considered arrival of a plane to be a minor event. There was plenty of time for the traffic controller to give his personal attention to each arirval. The fastest airliner then had a cruising speed of 145 mph.

Airport traffic has changed considerably in the intervening 25 years both in numbers and speed of aircraft. Last year, a plane took off or landed at the Washington D. C. National Airport every 70 seconds. More than 100,000 airplanes are now in use and a growing fleet of jet airliners zoom across the country at the speed of sound. Everything has changed but the ground control procedure.

Radar has given the controller an extra eye over his airport, but he still records all activity, polices his own airliners, instructs pilots using his facilities and forwards departures to interested airports.

It has become the rule for aircraft to join a descending holding pattern while waiting their turn to land. Flight jams can occus in minutes now, leaving little time for anticipating and diverting or slowing approaching craft. Why isn't something being done about this?

It is. The Federal Aviation Agency's Bureau of Research and Development has conceived a system of mechanical flight computation utilizing a battery of electronic computers to handle all the tedious tasks and leave man free for the job of decision making.

Improving the effectiveness of airport traffic control systems has become the primary mission of the FAA. "Data Processing Central" is the name given to the system expected to bring the control tower up to date with the craft it is controlling.

It is a phrase which will be heard more often around airports in the years ahead.

More New Gold Is Needed

By George Sokolsky

Although the outward drain of gold remains a serious problem, no one in government has yet come up with a workable solution.

One of our problems is our short term liabilities which are a potential drain on our gold supply. As of October 1960, these short term liabilities which are a potential drain on our gold supply. As of October 1960, these short term liabilities amounted to about $21,400,000,000. Of this sum, $10,200,000,000 represented liabilities to foreign central banks and governments which are entitled to be paid in gold rather than in dollars, if they prefer gold .They were therefore, a direct threat to our gold reserve.

Of the remainder, $3,600,000,000 was held by International Institutions and $7,600,000,000 in other institutions and private persons. Deducting out short term claims on foreigners, the United States was left with a short term liability of approximately $18,100,000,000 which exceeded our monetary gold reserve.

This set off a period of gold speculation on the London gold market and called universal attention to the American gold difficulties.

The balance of trade has been favorable to the United States during 1958, 1959 and 1960. The difficulty arose not from ordinary trade relations but from expenditures for economic and military aid to other countries and to the distribution of American troops in foreign countries.

Even these expenditures, averaging for the years 1958, 1959 and 1960, $3,100,000,000 for American military purposes outside the country and grants in aid averaging $2,400,000,000 annually do not wholly explain our troubles.

The export of private capital has been very large during these years and although no absolute figures are available, it is generally accepted that they are an enormous factor in the situation. Many causes entered into this situation, perhaps the principal one being that quota and tariff restrictions and the organization of the Common Market and the Free Trade Association in Europe forced many of our businesses to open plants in European and Asiatic cuntries in order to be able to compete and operate in restricted areas.

This amounts to an export of jobs and is a factor in the continued unemployment in the United States.

If all foreign nations removed their quotas and permitted the import of American goods, it would be helpful, although that alone would not solve the gold problem or unemployment, particularly as the balance of exchange of merchandise is still favorable to the United States.

The entire question of military expenditures outside the United States requires reconsideration and revision. The United States accepted the heavy load of the reconstruction of friend, foe and neutral in the hope of finding a road to peace. It is difficult to convince the world that our motives have been lofty and moral.

The assumption of most peoples is that the American objectives were based solely upon materialistic considerations. We have now reached the point at which the "give - away" programs, as their opponents called them, can no longer be carried forward without endangering the economy of this country and the stability of its currency.

There can be no question but that European nations and Japan will realize that their own economic stability still depends upon the stability of the American dollar and that it will benefit no country, except Soviet Russia, to take advantage of the American economic difficulties.

The fact that the entire Western world is on a gold exchange standard is not readily understood in this country where it is only too often assumed that we have had nothing to do with gold since Franklin D. Roosevelt altered our gold standard. The face is that the currency of all nations can be exchanged for dollars which in turn can be exchanged for gold through governments and central banks.

The question thus arises, is there enough gold available to take care of all the monetary needs of the world? The world monetary supply of gold, at $35 an ounce, amounts to roughly $40,000,000,000.

This then is the central problem in the gold situation and is hardly one with which amateurs can do very much. In a word, the gold reserve of the world needs to be built up, surely by newly mined gold. But can gold be mined economically at $35 an ounce?

Some very able minds are devoting themselves to this problem and their reports, usually very technical, do not see the light of day. As far as I am able to do so, I shall attempt to translate their various views in language which is understandable.

By now there must be nothing as lonely as a still unbroken New Year's good resolution.

Government Seeks New Data On American Cost of Living

NEW YORK (AP)—How much does your family spend—and for what?

The government wants to know.

So it's going to revise the make-up of the cost of living index, last updated in 1950.

A lot of things—tranquilizers, for instance—have become noteworthy items in the American economy since then.

And changing times have raised many other questions, such as whether the price of hamburger should figure in the compilation.

The latest monthly index issued by the government was last December's 127.5—meaning that prices of items listed were 27.5 per cent over what they were in the 1947-1949 period, which is the 100 base.

The Labor Department plans a comprehensive survey of consumer spending habits because it believes the reporting value of some of the hundreds of items that figure in the index may be outmoded.

The survey will start in the New York metropolitan area Monday.

The plans were announced Thursday by Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics in the Department of Labor. Labor Department statisticians will be sent out to question families who have incomes from wages.

The government announced some time ago that it would conduct the survey in 27 cities this year end 27 next year, and in 12 metropolitan areas both years. These areas are New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Baltimore, Washington and San Francisco.

The families—selected at random for the survey—will be asked to give details on all their living expenses in 1960.

"Gertrude, please!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MRS. SMITH just loved spiritualists, and usually dragged her young daughter Rosie in with her when she spotted a new one. On the boardwalk of Atlantic City she discovered a spiritualist who rashly accepted Rosie's challenge, "I wanna talk to my Uncle Harold." A light flashed, a gong sounded, and a sepulchral voice announced, "Hello, Rosie, I'm your Uncle Harold."

"Uncle Harold," cried Rosie. "What are you doing up in heaven? You ain't dead yet!"

Coffee House Is Latest Rage In Tokyo — 7,000 Counted

TOKYO (AP)—The Teahouse of the August Moon is old stuff nowadays. The coffee house has taken over.

The Japanese have taken to the coffee house with a passion. There are more than 7,000 in Tokyo alone, and more open every week.

The coffee house here bears little resemblance to the American variety. You'll find no beards, bards nor beatniks. The Japanese coffee shop might be described as a combination drug store and saloon, with elements of the cabaret and Coney Island.

They are strictly a postwar phenomenon, providing a place for young couples to date. The American style of dating was not practiced in Japan before the war. The coffee houses are—well, you just can't understand them without seeing them. Even then, you may not be sure.

First stop is the Fujiya Music Salon, a tastefully decorated place. As is the custom in the coffee places, you buy a ticket at the door for your refreshment —tea, coffee, fruit drinks, beer, sundaes, etc., at around 150 yen (42 cents) apiece.

You take a seat on one of the tables, and the waitress takes your ticket and brings the order. You sip and listen to a combo of six sleepy-eyed musicians playing progressive jazz that would be more than acceptable on the Sunset Strip.

Next comes the Tennessee. You take a table in the balcony of the rococo place, sitting alongside bobbysoxers just out of school. All of a sudden the bandstand erupts with a rock 'n' roll "I'm Going to Stop Shoppin' Around," complete with honking saxes and thumping guitars.

The din becomes too great, and you walk to the Yie-Lai-Shian, a tastefully decorated Chinese palace. At the far end is a platform where a 10-piece chamber-music group is playing "Liebestraum." The atmosphere is hushed, and couples whisper over their coffee cups.

You could keep walking from one such place to another until you were awash with coffee. They are all over the city in an infinite variety. One features waitresses in negligees, another offers bikinis. One is fashioned as an airliner; customers are strapped with seat belts in reelining chairs.

VA Withholds 3,000 Pensions From Southern Ohio Persons

CINCINNATI (AP) — More than 3,000 Southern Ohio veterans, their dependents or widows, were suspended from Veterans' Administration pension rolls Thursday for failure to report their income, as required by law.

Fifty counties are included in the Cincinnati regional office.

R. M. Fitzgerald, manager of VA's regional office here, said the action automatically will hold up pension payments for February—due about March 1—to persons on the suspension list.

The dollar loss to benficiaries could well be over $200,000 a month, he estimated. Emergency procedures have been set up to speed reinstatements as income questionnaires are returned.

Reinstatement still is possible until March 15. After that, the claim must be reopened and reprocessed. This takes "double action" in the bookkeeping department, according to Fitzgerald.

Veterans' Administration sent out 36,000 questionnaire cards Jan. 1. These cards concern income, and law requires them to be returned by Feb. 1, although 10 days of grace are allowed. Little more than 32,000 replies have been received.

"The law is explicit and we have no choice but to make these suspensions. This is necessary because possibly half of those failing to answer did not reply because they knew their increased income would automatically bar them from pension," Fitzgerald said.

Last year, out of 29,000 cases, VA suspended more than 1,000 beneficiaries, but later reinstated about 500. The increase this year results form a 7,000 increase in pensioners in Southern Ohio, mostly World War II and Korean War widows and orphans who became eligible for the first time last July under the new pension law.

Juvenile Clinic Sites To Be Eyed by State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Possible sites for a small community-environment institution for juveniles not yet in serious trouble will be inspected by state Juvenile Division officials in Youngstown next week. The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction proposes to set up 20-bed institutions as a means toward rehabilitating young first offenders. Chief John Ferguson of the Juvenile Division says a prospective site for such an establishment in Cleveland also will be looked into.

Future Soldier Slated To Be One-Man Tank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tomorrow's soldier will be a human and a power plant all wrapped into one.

He will be a "one-man tank"—able to run faster, stop quicker and lift bigger loads than ordinary mortals. What's more, he will be immune to germ warfare, poison gas and the heat and radiation from nuclear blasts.

Such a soldier is not the dream of a science fiction writer. The Pentagon thinks the idea is feasible and wants civilian inventors to come up with some ideas on how to make him become a reality.

Here's how the Pentagon expects to make him come true:

Called the "servo-soldier," this future GI will wear a special suit that will have its own engine, giving him the extra power. He will be aided by a servo-motor, or auxiliary power plant.

The mechanical type suit will provide "a self-contained power source, automatically controled and guided by the natural responses and senses of the wearer."

As the soldier moves his hands, arms, legs and feet, the power mechanism would be automatically activated to multiply his strength in much the same manner as vehicle power brakes and power steering mechanism respond to foot pedal and steering wheel movements.

In combat "the mechanism would be designed to convert each soldier into a fast-moving and highly mobile one-man tank."

GOP Delegates Blame TV for Nixon Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP)—A consensus of 780 of the 1,331 delegates to the 1960 Republican National Convention indicated today that the Nixon-Kennedy television debates were the chief campaign mistake by the GOP.

The 780 responded to a poll by the Indianapolis News asking the delegates to state their reasons for Richard M. Nixon's defeat by John F. Kennedy Nov. 8. Results of the poll were made available to The Associated Press.

Many delegates expressed belief that correction of one or two of many small mistakes might have produced a GOP victory in the razor-thin election.

But the one big mistake, according to the consensus, was Nixon's tangling with Kennedy in the television debates.

Most of the delegates responding, the News said, believed Nixon should have avoided the debates. By accepting the debates, many said, Nixon provided his opponent with a national audience he might not have reached otherwise.

Lancaster Aged Aid Manager Still Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Division of Aid for the Aged still is seeking a sub-division manager for the office in Lancaster, administrative assistant Kwegyir Aggrey said today. He said several weeks is not an unusual time to search for a new manager "considering the administrative experience needed."

Lancaster is a Grade 1 office; that is, in a county of less than 70,000 with less than 7,000 persons 65 or older and less than 1,000 on the Aid for the Aged rolls. The former manager resigned, and Miss Mary Helen Vincent, a field representative, is supervising the operation temporarily, Aggrey said. Mrs. Mary Hall is acting manager.

Somehow we don't think of the baby's bassinette as a "scientific development." But it is.

It has been designed to protect a child from exterior hazards—and from himself.

Religion isn't what we would call "scientific." But it, too, embraces this theory of double protection.

The man or woman who worships God faithfully is prepared for the unexpected crises in life. And his mature conscience is ready to cope with temptation.

This isn't to say that nothing ever goes wrong for the ardent church-goer. But he meets each outward or inward challenge with adequate spiritual resources.

There are impelling reasons why you need the Church and its undergirding strength. And for every one that is evident today, there are others you'll confront tomorrow.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Reducing Fat Steaks for Consumer Use

DENVER (AP) —Cattlemen who grow those steaks you like so well are preplexed over how to give you a tender, juicy, flavorful T-bone or sirloin without a lot of fat.

Fat has become a nasty word recently. Some persons believe it causes excess weight, bringing on health problems. Others hate fat for economic reasons. The fat on steaks costs $1.29 a pound (or whatever is the going rate) and some persons don't eat it — like Jack Sprat.

But fat bears heavily on the palatability of a steak. Fat also figures in federal grading of meat — usually the more fat the higher the grade. And the grade determines profit for the cattleman.

"The consumer wants lean meat," says Dr. Gladys E. Vail, head of foods and nutrition at Purdue's School of Home Economics. "She does not want to buy a high proportion of fat which is no longer consumed at the table, or which may not even reach the table but is discarded during the preparation of the meat."

"This great aversion to fat is of fairly recent origin," Dr. Vail adds. "As a youngster I recall that it was a rule that we eat the fat along with the lean."

L. E. Kunkle of Ohio State University says that while meat handlers object to the costly fat trim of the over-fat carcasses "they all admit the desirability of quality which frequently is combined with excess finish." Finish is the fat that is deposited on the outside, the inside and dispersed within the muscle of beef cattle.

"Cattlemen are making every effort to meet the growing demand for meat of consistent quality with less waste fat," says C. W. McMillan, executive vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn.

There is a trend to marketing of younger cattle, whose meat is apt to be less fat and more tender than cattle a few months older. A large proportion of range cattle are sent to feed lots when they are from 18 to 21 months old. A few years ago most of them were past 2 years old before going to the feed lots where the finish fat is produced with rich diets.

Many research projects are underway in breeding and feeding. McMillan said "All are aimed at developing efficient methods of producing an animal yielding tender, juicy meat with the least fat."

Experiments are in progress with an electronic device that measures and photographs fat dispersed within the bodies of cattle. Vegetable enzymes are being injected into live animals just before a slaughter in experiments to determine if that results in tender, more tasty meat. If the enzymes work perhaps animals with less fat can be produced.

If we accept the belief that God, does control history, we could accept the problems which confront us today. The real clue to a nation's history is not what a nation has achieved, but what God has done. We must have faith in Christ, peace and better under-standing of people.

Group A will meet in the home of Mrs. B. T. Hedges, 316 Watt St., at 2 p. m. March 17th.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

She's Being Teased!

DEAR ABBY: The fellows where my husband works started a fan club for a stripteaser and they elected my husband president. He carries her picture in his wallet and sleeps with a garter she threw at him during one of her performances. Now he has brought home a big poster of her and has hung it up in our bedroom. I am not a crabby wife and I believe in letting a man have his fun—within limits—but what kind of monkey business is this for a 52-year-old man?

DISGUSTED WITH MAC

DEAR DISGUSTED: It's a pretty swinging monkey business. What a man carries in his wallet is his own business, but he went too far when he hung the poster in your bedroom. Take it down. And tell him to hand over the garter—and make it snappy!

DEAR ABBY: In regard to that letter from "RICHARD" wanting to know what to do about a woman he loved who was legally married (but separated) from her husband but wouldn't get a divorce because of her religion. I think your answer was very crude.

A girl who is willing to stick to her religion and not get a divorce would make a wonderful wife for Richard if her husband died.

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: The Old Folks' Homes are full of people who have spent their lives waiting for someone to die. If the object of one's affection already has a legal connection, I recommend unconditional surrender.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a girl should be the one to answer the door when her date calls for her? I say the girl's parents should do it and explain that the girl will be ready in a minute. My mother says if I am dressed I should answer the door myself. I think if I open the door myself, it will give the boy the impression that I am over-anxiously awaiting his arrival. I am always dressed ahead of time, but I don't think my date has to know this.

What is your opinion?

READY BUT NOT WILLING

DEAR READY: If you are dressed and ready to go, answer the door yourself. Your date will probably appreciate it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO N. H.: Tell your children nothing of your past "sins." If you are now living a good, clean, respectable life, the Lord forgave you years ago.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ON THE WAY — Paul Kreider of Darby is still in the air after heaving a shot from the side for two points in tournament action last night. John Valentine Gets Head Grid Coach Job at Madison

John Valentine, former Circleville football star, has been named head grid coach at Mansfield Madison High School.

Valentine succeeds his old CHS teammate, Jim Cook. Cook was appointed assistant football coach at Akron University this week.

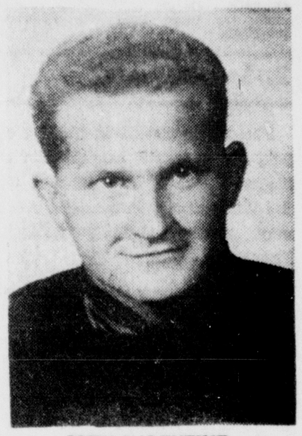
Cook's head job at Madison was immediately filled by Valentine who previously held the center and guard coaching post at the Mansfield school.

Valentine, 28, was graduated by Circleville High School in 1951 after earning 12 varsity letters in all sports. He was noted here as a bruising fullback and ace blocker for All - Ohio gridder Sandy Hill.

* * *

THE CHS standout served four years in the U. S. Navy after graduation, then enrolled at Bowling Green State University where he lettered at center.

Valentine worked two years at Madison under Cook. He also is head wrestling coach and a general science teacher there.



JOHN VALENTINE

The popular coach was awarded a three -year contract by the Madison Board of Education.

The local product is married and has one daughter, Kimberly, 2½.

Valentine this week said he plans to use the same system utilized by Cook during the last several years of football at Madison. He said several lettermen return for next season to form the nucleus of what could be a strong team.

Trojans Pressed In Downing Monroe, 58-50

Victors' Early Lead Sufficient To Halt Determined Indians

A thrilling battle between Darby and Monroe opened the second session of the 1961 Pickaway County Tournament last night at the Coliseum.

Darby was the victor 58-50, but not without a tough struggle against a determined Monroe five.

The test got off to a cold start, but fans were on the edges of their seats before the second period was over.

Darby was in the lead at the close of the first quarter, 21-6, but Monroe got hot in the second period to cut the margin to 36-26.

The third stanza bolted in with a torrid Monroe five racking 17 points to Darby's 11, cutting the margin to 47-43. Monroe's spirited bid fell behind in the final quarter as Darby turned on.

* * *

ROGER Drummond, wiry captain for the Trojans, was high man of the tilt.

Hot on rebounds, he racked six goals and five free throws for 17 points.

Darby had two other cagers to pace its victory with two figure scores. Bob McPherson clipped six field goals and two charities for 14. Jerry Vance hit six goals and one from the foul line for 13.

Scoring honors for Monroe were held by Mickey Hunt with six goals and one free throw for 13. Jeff Bigam accumulated 12 and Paul Porter finished with 10.

Darby's Vance and Drummond were alert and ready to play ball from the start of the clock. Vance collected three rebounds and Drummond hit three goals and one from the foul line in the early stages when Darby was building a lead.

* * *

PAUL Porter blasted off in fine style in the second period for Monroe and added nine points to spur the Indians on for 20 points during the second period Indian uprising.

McPherson, hitting on jump shots from far out front, starred for the Trojans in the second period, collecting six points. He was closely followed by Paul Kreider who swished a couple of jump shots from the side.

The third period opened with Darby leading by ten points, but it wasn't long until Monroe installed some creeping tactics to narrow things to 43-41.

The chilling comeback saw Bigam fire away for three straight baskets, followed by two jump shots by Hunt and three more by Shell. Darby's McPherson took over the ball and netted two straight baskets, one on a jump and the other on a lay-up.

Drummond then hit two from the foul line, putting the Trojans back out front at the end of the third period, 47-43.

Tension was applied on both teams during the closing stages of the contest. With three minutes of play left, the scoreboard showed Monroe trailing by four points, 52-48.

* * *

DRUMMOND coming to life again, netted another five points for Darby on a lay-up, a rebound and a free throw, putting the Monroe five at a 58-48 disadvantage.

Hunt managed to sink another jump shot out front in the last few seconds, but the Darby victory march couldn't be stopped.

Coach Ned Reichelderfer's Trojans will meet Walnut in the second half of the doubleheader slated for Wednesday.

Tigers Hit Snag against Press, Lose Close Test to Miami Trace Unit, 56-54

That old jinx of losing the close ones struck the Circleville cage Tigers again last night.

Administering the bad medicine were the visiting Panthers of Miami Trace who handed the Tigers a 56-54 setback. The invaders injected a pressing defense in the late minutes to spoil all hopes of a CHS victory.

As in the case of other defeats, the Tigers held a lead until late in the third quarter. The disaster struck in the fading minutes, with the Miami Trace press playing no little part.

Miami Trace rushed to a 13-10 lead in the first quarter, but the Bengals clawed their way into a 29-25 halftime initiative. This margin held until the final 41 seconds of the third period when the Panthers jumped ahead, 41-39.

* * *

ONCE they grabbed an edge, the visitors were bound determined to hang onto it. They managed to stifle several Tiger rallies as the precious seconds ticked away.

The game was a chiller from the opening moments and a large crowd enjoyed it all. Circleville started off right as Jimmie Wellington swished a long one and Sam Weller followed with a jumper.

Lon Ayers put MT into the test with a bucket. Tiger Dick Kline retaliated with a jumper, but Len Ford then netted two goals for the Panthers to knot the count at 6-6. From then on it was a battle to the finish.

Weller was a constant spark for the Tigers. The slender ace poured in 21 points to trigger the CHS attack, many of his tallies coming on an accurate jump shot.

Clesson Thomas was another cog with his 12 points on five buckets and two foul tosses. Wellington found the range for 10 and Luther Johnson eight.

Bo Henry of the Panthers was a problem for the Tigers all evening. He specialized in rebound tips and added six foul tosses for 14 points.

* * *

FORD followed the pattern with 11 and Carl Weaver finished with the same number.

Weller was especially accurate in the third period when the Tigers started to lose ground. He kept the CHS unit above water with three straight jumpers from around the key. Henry and Weaver were the chief point makers for the Panthers during the uprising.

Miami Trace broke a 39-39 deadlock late in the third canto when Henry connected on a jump shot. The visitors then edged ahead to stay.

The Tigers suffered in the foul department. They outscored the Panthers from the field, 21-19, but were handcuffed with an 18-12 deficiency at the charity circle.

The loss dropped Circleville's record to 3-13 with two games remaining, one tonight against Hillsboro and the other Friday with visiting Greenfield.

Circleville gained a measure of consolation as the reserve Kittens fashioned a final push to drop the young Panthers in a 30-28 thriller.

A FINE effort in the last half brought the victory, Miami Trace bounced to a 10-4 lead in the first quarter and stayed up front, 21-15, at halftime.

A solid counterattack in the last two stanzas changed the picture as Freddie Moore, Bob Waple and Dave Hannahs turned on the steam. Moore showed the way for a total of nine points and Waple and Hannahs hit six each.

Craig was top scorer for Miami Trace as he collected 11. Redd had six.

The Tigers' game with Hillsboro tonight will be played at Paint Valley. Hillsboro, faced with a small gym problem, requested the Ross County site.

The Paint Valley School is located on Route 50 a few miles southwest of Chillicothe.

Next 50 Hours To Tell the Tale For Ohio State's Fabulous 5

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big, Bold Bucks of Ohio State head into a 50-hour stretch tonight that should decide whether they'll be the first major college basketball team since North Carolina in 1957 to go through a regular season without a loss.

The Bucks, 19-0 this season with a 24-game winning streak, play Big Ten runner-up Iowa at Iowa City tonight, then move to Bloomington, Ind:, for another meeting with Indiana Monday.

If All-America Jerry Lucas & Co. can negotiate both, it more than likely will be an unbeaten Ohio State team that opens defense of its NCAA championship in the Mid-East regional at Louisville March 17.

After the Iowa and Indiana roadblocks, the Buckeyes have matches with Wisconsin (Feb. 25) and Michigan State (March 4) at home in Columbus, Ohio, before ending the regular season at Illinois on March 11.

Iowa tonight is the big one, however, with the Hawkeyes holding a 6-1 league record to Ohio State's 9-0 despite the loss of four regulars because of poor grades. Even with the team riddled, the Hawks, ninth-ranked nationally, have continued to win with the big push coming from an erstwhile sophomore reserve named Matt Szykowny. He's scored 43 points in victories over Indiana and Wisconsin since the first team was decimated.

The Ohio State-Iowa sizzler tops another Saturday national program loaded again with key conference games and some big ones for the independents in this month of driving toward NCAA and National Invitation Tournament berths.

Ohio University can become the first conference champion to clinch, needing only a victory over Bowling Green to nail its second straight Mid-American title and a place in the NCAA tournament.

Temple and St. Joseph's Pa. clash in a showdown of the unbeaten leaders of the Middle-Atlantic Conference at Philadelphia's Palestra, and Arizona State U. can clinch at least a tie for the Border Conference championship by beating second-place New Mexico State.

Southern Methodist is at Texas in the national TV game this afternoon, and some non-league favorites are Duke at Navy, St. Bonaventure vs. DePaul at Buffalo, Louisville at Dayton, Niagara at St. Johns, Oregon at Seattle, and Pitt at West Virginia.

Friday night, Princeton fattened its Ivy lead to 1½ games over Yale, beating Columbia 99-69 as Pete Campbell scored 19 points and Al Kaemmerlen 18; York Larese hit 30 and Doug Moe 26 as Atlantic Coast leader North Carolina whipped South Carolina, 92-68; Rhode Island downed New Hampshire 84-65 for a half-game lead over Maine in the Yankee loop; and Colorado State U. closed to within a half game of Utah in the Skyline duel, beating Utah State 64-60.

Two free throws with five seconds left by Roger Newman, who scored 26 points, gave Kentucky (13-7) its fifth straight, 77-76 over touring UCLA; Eastern Kentucky shrugged off 32 points by Tom Chilton and whipped East Tennessee 85-67; and Dick Markowitz scored 29 points and grabbed 19 rebounds in George Washington's 106-78 triumph over Richmond.

Balanced scoring featured North Carolina State's 63-52 victory over Clemson and Bev Vaughn's 23 points triggered William & Mary's 86-77 romp past VMI. Idaho dealt Oregon State (14-7) a blow in its hopes for an NCAA at-large berth, 72-57.

Bobsledders Vie For World Crown

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — Eugenio Monti, and three pretenders to his throne as four-man bobsled king, tried to conquer a slowed down, mile run on Mt. Van Hoevenberg today in the first two heats of the world championships.

Monti faced the determined bids of American Stan Benham, Germany's Franz Schelle and his own teammate Sergio Zardini as he hoped to get off winging toward his second consecutive world four-man title, and also his second straight sweep of both the two and four man crowns. Monti won the two-man title here last weekend.

Armstrong Favored In Tiger Match

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene (Ace) Armstrong hopes to end the hex Dick Tiger holds over him when they clash at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Armstrong, a sharp boxer from Elizabeth, N.J., has lost only twice in his pro career. Both defeats were inflicted on points by Tiger, Nigerian holder of the British Empire middleweight crown.

Despite those two defeats, the 29-year-old Armstrong is rated the 7-5 favorite in the television (ABC 10 p.m. EST) 10-rounder.

Toots Peterson And Team Lead

Toots Peterson and her Bingman Drugs team tucked away high scores in Prairie Chics bowling this week at Prairie Lanes.

Mrs. Peterson tossed a 194 single and 503 series for highs in those departments. The Bingman team went on for a 762 single and a 2,-165 series.

Phyllis Williams of Basic Construction earned a shoulder patch with her three straight games of 111. June Minke of Circleville Motors turned in a 5-7 split.

The standings:

Late Tigermen Surge Trips Scioto, 69-57

Battle Stays Close Until Bengals Roar In Final 2 Quarters

Walnut, shaking a cold first half, came back strong in the second interlude to hand Scioto a 69 - 57 defeat last night in the second game of Pickaway County Tournament play.

It was a contest which saw Scioto use sheer determination to stay abreast most of the way with the strong Tigers. The battle remained close until about midway in the third quarter, then Walnut started to pull away.

As in the first game between Darby and Monroe, the action was fast and furious. Both teams came to play and they did just that.

Individual performances were at a premium. Bob Whiteside of Scioto captured the praise of all with his 32 points and spirited play. Bill Hoover of Walnut was a pillar of strength with his 22 tallies and fine rebounding.

* * *

TOM HARBER of the Tigers was another cog as he stuffed 20 points and cleared the boards time and again. Also taking credit where credit was due were Sonny Kerschner of Scioto who hit 14 points and utilized his excellent speed and Clarence "Beef" Gray of Walnut with 11 markers and some devasting work underneath the boards.

Closeness of the contest was easily indicated. The score was deadlocked 12 times before Walnut finally pulled into its commanding lead in the third quarter.

Whiteside was almost unstopable at times with his deadly jump shots and driving layups. However, his fine performance could not overshadow the dual task force of Hoover and Harber, Walnut's two talented co-captains.

The score was tied five times in the first period before Scioto eased ahead, 14-13, as the buzzer sounded. The count was knotted four more times in the second canto, but Walnut managed to slip out front at intermission, 27-25.

More of the same was due in the third quarter until Walnut came to life to break a 34-34 deadlock and set sail for a 50-39 advantage as the frame came to an end.

The Tigers opened a 58-41 gap early in the fourth chapter, but the Buffaloes of Scioto made it known they wouldn't be counted out. They came roaring back in a couple of minutes to cut the deficit to 60-51, with Whiteside and Kerschner blazing away.

* * *

BUT Walnut had smelled the scent of victory. Harber, Hoover, Gray and company regrouped, repelled the counterattack and made the final count read in their favor.

Scioto fashioned its most serious bid about half way through the second quarter by taking a 23-17 margin. Whiteside was the ringleader with his six straight points. Walnut fought back at a steady pace and Harber broke a 25-25 deadlock with a jump shot just 12 seconds before the half.

Walnut, slightly on the cold side the first half, wasted little time finding the range the last two quarters. Hoover hit seven points the first two periods, but drew a bead on the hoop for 15 in the final two. Harber had eight at intermission, then unlimbered for 12 in his second go.

Whiteside was consistent all evening. He pumped in 12 the first quarter, six the second, 10 the third and eight in the finale.

Both teams performed well at the foul line. Walnut netted 21 of 30 chances and Scioto 20 of 27. Hoover cashed in for 10 charities and Whiteside six. Duane Sheets of Walnut also hit six at the free throw line.

The Tigers' victory pushed them into the second round of the tournament. Wednesday they will meet Darby, 58-50 victor over Monroe last night.

The first game Wednesday pits Ashville against Logan Elm at 7:30 p. m. The Walnut-Darby fracas starts at about 9.

Russian Jumper Labeled 'Great'

NEW YORK (AP)—If there are any non-believers in the house on the quality of Valery Brumel's high jumping, please take leave—he is great, just plain great.

"He's the greatest," admitted John Thomas, the Boston University junior today.

Brumel, an 18-year-old Russian, and Thomas, a 19-year-old American, clashed Friday for the first time since last year's Olympics when they met in the New York Athletic Club Games at Madison Square Garden.

Brumel, sandy haired and handsome, cleared 7 feet 3 inches, which equaled Thomas' best indoor performance. Thomas still holds the official world record of 7-3¾, but Brumel climbed over 7-4½ three weeks ago in Leningrad, jumping indoors on a dirt floor.

When the bar was raised to 7-2, only Brumel and Thomas remained in the competition. Both had cleared 7-1.

But Thomas missed three times at 7-2, and Brumel cleared it on his first shot. Then the bar went up to 7-3. Brumel missed twice and the crowd of 15,930 that packed Madison Square Garden moaned. The spectators were with the Russian.

On the third try over he went and the crowd went wild. Brumel hardly wasted a minute before o ering the bar to 7-5. But he missed on all three tries.

Brumel and Thomas meet twice more, in the National AAU Championships next Saturday and the Knights of Columbus meet on March 3. Brumel beat Thomas in the Olympics. The Russian collected the silver medal with a 7-1 jump and Thomas was third with 7-¼.

The Brumel-Thomas battle overshadowed Ralph Boston's indoor record broad jump of 26 feet 1¾ inches. Boston, the Tennesseean who holds all the world broad jump marks, had a 25-10 indoor mark pending. He hit 25-11½, then on his last try, became the first broad jumper ever to soar over 26 feet indoors.

In the process, Brumel's teammate Igo Ter-Ovanesyan, fouled on all six of his jumps, so be batted .000. The third Russian, Evgeny Momotkov, also fizzled. He finished third in the 2-mile behind Peter McArdle of the New York A.C., who won in 8:52.2, and Max Truex of the Air Force, who was second.

Also overshadowed was Istvan Rozsavolgyi's fifth straight mile victory since arriving here three weeks ago. Rosy's time was 4:0', his best to date. Pete Close was second about 12 yards back and Ed Moran third.

Other winners included George Kerr of Illinois in the half mile (1:52.2), Jim Wedderburn of New York University in the 600 (1:18.8), Dick Edmunds of Princeton in the 500 (57.8), Hayes Jones of Ypsilanti, Mich., in the 60-yard hurdles (7-1), Dave James of San Francisco in the 60-yard dash (6-1), Don Bragg in the pole vault (15-7) and Wilma Rudolph in the women's 50-yard dash (6.0) and the 60-yard dash (6.8, a record).

Actor Says 'Imaging' Is Key To Getting What You Want

TOKYO (AP)—Don't ask why Robert Cummings would be in a Chinese restaurant in the Japanese capital talking about an American TV show. Don't ask; just listen.

Fact is, when Cummings starts talking, you're bound to listen. He speaks with the zeal of an evangelist, which he is.

One of his crusades is bringing joys of food supplements to the unenlightened. He is working here on "My Geisha," and he has most of the company hooked on his pills, which he despenses in gross lots.

In between the shark fin soup and fried rice, he chomped on handsful of protein tablets and wheat germ pills and philosophized.

"Imaging," he said. "That's the way you can accomplish anything in life. Once you image what you want—and if it is good for you and other people—all you have to do is start acting as if you already have it. And before long, you will!"

He illustrated with his career. For five years he imaged himself as a British actor and won his start in the theater and films. He now images himself young, and at 50 he looks like a collegiate.

His latest imaging has accomplished the virtually impossible feat of a third bigtime TV series. He did "My Hero," which is still making the re-run rounds in the United States and elsewhere. More importantly, he had a five-year run with "The Bob Cummings Show." Next season, CBS will offer an entirely different series, oddly named "The Bob Cummings Show."

How come? Because Bob imaged it.

"It happened a year ago," he recounted. "One morning it came to me, the kind of a show I wanted to do."

He sent for the boss of a giant agency, who bought the idea immediately. The writers' strike delayed the project for months. But as soon as the pilot film was made, it was snapped up. The story has Bob as a playboy with a home at an airport in Palm Desert, Calif. He's sort of a jet age Paladin, taking on jobs to help out people when he runs out of money.

As with his previous series, Bob will star in, direct, produce and image the new show.

Paper Says Ike Holds Copies Of Secret Summit Parleys

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Daily News reports that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has in his personal custody proofsheets of the secret papers of various World II summit conferences.

A copyright story from Washington added that Eisenhower took the proof with him when he left the White House Jan. 20 "as insurance against any tampering with or suppression of the documents by the Kennedy administration."

Asked about the story, Eisenhower said at Palm Springs, Calif., where he is vacationing: "I have no records here and no recollection of anything they are talking about."

The News story said in part: Eisenhower has the proofsheets, now classified secret, of the Cairo-Tehran conferences of 1943 and of the 1945 Potsdam conference. The papers had been scheduled to be released by the State Department later this year in printed form under arrangements made when Eisenhower was president.

"Unless they are released as is, or if there is any undue delay in releasing them, the former president firmly intends to see that his own unexpurgated file of the documents reaches the American people," the News said.

The papers are reported to contain "far more dynamite" concerning U.S. concessions to the Soviet Union than was revealed in the Yalta conference documents when the veil of secrecy of those S[illegible] Roosevelt tal's was lifted six years ago.

The concessions made by President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the Cairo-Tehran meetings cleared the way, it has been charged, for the postwar grabs of Eastern Europe and mainland China.

The papers on the Potsdam conference—held in July 1945 after Roosevelt's death—are considered relatively unimportant compared with those of Cairo and Tehran. Former President Harry S. Truman attended the Potsdam conference.

Eisenhower's decision to take personal custody of the material was reached at a White House conference with Republican congressional leaders shortly before President Kennedy was inaugurated.

Judge Orders Test of Ohio Bill Collection

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Franklin County judge has ruled there must be a showdown on the question of relatives' financial responsibilities in connection with patients in state mental institutions.

Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds has denied a motion by the state to dismiss a lawsuit against Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction. The suit filed by Ward M. Miller of Columbus seeks to enjoin the state claims Miller owes for care of a son who has been in Columbus State School since 1956.

The judge asserted "There should be a showdown with respect to the constitutional question."

He also noted there is an inconsistency in the state's pay-patient laws where the burden sometimes is on the state and other times on the relatives of patients.

Miller's suit, which will go to trial in common pleas court, says his son became a patient in August 1956 when the support rate was $15.75 a week. He says he made an agreement with an agent for the Bureau of Support to pay $2.80 a week because of financial difficulties. Then, on Dec. 20, 1957, Miller says he was informed the rate had been increased to $21 a week and two years later it went up to $24.50.

Miller says that by March 1960 he owed the state $3,133. Because of the debt, he said, the state has first claim in event of his death on any property he might have regardless of his family's needs.

This required obligation, he asserted, will prevent him from acquiring peace of mind and useful enjoyment of his property.

Park Ticket Traps Ohio Parole Skipper

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Walter W. Lance, 62, showed up in court today as an Ohio parole violator because he failed to pay a $1 parking ticket.

But there may be a happy ending.

After Lance's arrest a routine check disclosed he served a year in the Ohio State Reformatory for breaking and entering. That was in 1931.

Lance was paroled, but neglected to report to a parole officer after moving to California.

He told Municipal Judge Hector Baida he thought if he left Ohio he didn't need to report.

After several character references attested to a good record in California, Judge Baida read a letter from Ohio authorities. It said that because of Lance's age and circumstances they were hesitant about seeking extradition. Said the judge:

"They don't seem to want you very badly. I'll continue this for two weeks, and if I don't hear any more, I think you can count on going free."

Boxer Undergoes Brain Surgery

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Lester Norris, 16, of Oak Hill underwent brain surgery at St. Mary's Hospital at midnight, four hours after he collapsed in the ring during the Golden Gloves boxing tournament.

Hospital attendants said Norris' condition was critical.

Norris collapsed in his corner after the first round of his middleweight fight with Foster Valentine of Lancaster, Ohio. When he failed to regain consciousness after 15 minutes, he was rushed to the hospital.

Norris took several punches but did not appear seriously hurt. He squatted in his corner between rounds and was helped to his feet by his handlers. He took a few steps forward and toppled over.

Annabelle Crosby Leads Housewives

Annabelle Crosby of Team No. 1 earned best scores in Housewives bowling this week at Prairie Lanes.

She hit a 173 single and 456 series. Julia Burton of Team No. 2 collected 456 for the set.

Team No. 5 had a 558 single with handicap and Team No. 1 posted 1,621 pins for the series. A 4-6-10 split was turned in by Helen Lemley of Team No. 5.

Stanley Dancer was the top money winning harness driver at Yonkers, N. Y., Raceway last season. He took down $213,081 in purses.
